NEWS FROM THE REAL WORLD & CYBERSPACE

Hip Band Unveils "Bingo Live"

In anticipation of their highly anticipated annual "Goosemas" celebration, the celebrated Connecticut indie band Goose unveiled the theme for its 2024 holiday festivities, presenting "Bingo Live" to shake up its legendarily dynamic setlists even more. For their 11th annual holiday event, Goose will fly to South Carolina and assume the spotlight at North Charleston Coliseum on Dec. 13 and 14. The setlists for these two shows will be determined in real-time as an onstage host draws balls labeled with songs from their discography from a classic bingo cage roller.

This format recalls the band's 2020 Bingo Tour, which brought the excitement of Goose's unique live act into fans' homes to help the community thrive through the COVID lockdown. Like those four unforgettable livestreamed shows, virtual viewers for this year's event will be able to play along to the program with bingo cards of their own.

"Bingo Tour gave us a way to get together during a crazy time," recalls keyboardist and guitarist Peter Anspach. "We found new ways to be creative and connect with our fans despite being miles apart. Bringing 'Bingo Live' to Goosemas feels like the perfect way to celebrate that journey and finally perform some of the wild bingo antics live with an audience."

"Bingo Tour 2020 was such a special time for us," frontman Rick Mitarotonda adds. "We're stoked to once again go with the balls."

Mega Fundraising in WV

The YWCA Wheeling hosted its 2nd annual Mega Bingo Fundraiser recently at the River City Wheeling Artisan Center. The event featured 14 games of bingo with a $1,000 payout for each game along with a special overall game that had a payout of $3,000. All proceeds made at the event go directly to supporting the YWCA Wheeling's various services and projects. The executive director of the YWCA Wheeling, Lori Jones, says the turnout they saw for the event was heartwarming.

"We can't do what we do if the community doesn't show up to help us. We support about 7,200 women, children and men each year through our programs and it takes a village. This is the village that showed up today and we're just happy, happy, happy. Thank you, community. Thank you, Ohio Valley."

The YWCA Wheeling will be hosting the event quarterly in partnership with Laughlin Memorial Chapel. The next Mega Bingo fundraiser will be at the same location on November 16 and all proceeds made at that event will go to supporting the Laughlin Memorial Chapel.

Build Tasty Stuffed Vegetable Boats

We've devoured farm-fresh fruits and vegetables from A-Z during these past months, but it seems like we've been stuck on the letter "Z" for quite some time -- "Z" as in zucchini. Fat ones, skinny ones, green ones, and lots of cheap ones!

For health-conscious parents, it's a challenge to get vitamin-rich zucchini and other veggies that are so abundant right now into the picky eaters in the family. Here's a strategy that is bound to please their palates. Let your kids help prepare "vegetable boats" filled with the taste of the food they love: pizza!

This yummy combination of Italian sausage, tomato sauce and cheese, when scooped into the halves and hollows of squash and peppers to resemble boats, will glide onto your kids' plates and into their tummies for a healthy fall meal.

lengthwise (or substitute with yellow squash)
 1 large green or red pepper
 Shredded fresh carrot and parsley for garnish (optional) pose flour
 Pinch of salt

Cook the sausage in a medium frying pan until crumbled and lightly browned. Add the onion and chopped pepper. Continue to cook for 1 minute until onions and pepper are soft. Add the sauce and 1 cup of grated cheese. Stir until heated throughout. Transfer into a bowl and set aside to cool slightly.

Let your child scoop out the insides of the squash halves with a melon baller or a small ice-cream scoop to form a cavity. They'll enjoy digging around and removing the seeds. Then make some "pepper pockets" by coring a pepper and cutting it into quarters, then in half again.

Let children spoon the sausage mixture into the cavities of the squash halves and pepper pockets. Set them on a cookie sheet or baking dish.

Bake in a 350-F oven covered loosely with foil for about 30 minutes. Remove foil and top with remaining mozzarella. Return to oven uncovered for an additional 10 minutes, until vegetables are tender.

Serve with garnishes, if you wish. Or add thin carrot sticks as oars for the little boats. Serve with garlic sticks and a fruit salad on the side.

Extra Tips:
 — Trim off a strip of squash from the curved side of the squash halves to keep the "boats" upright.
 — Onions are nothing to cry about if you leave the root end intact while cutting up the rest of the onion.

Blackjack: Fact or Fiction?

Are the following statements about blackjack facts, or are they fiction?

- (1) Referring to a strategy card when you play blackjack is perfectly legal.
- (2) A blackjack player who misplays his hand will always cause other players to lose.
- (3) The third base player can influence a dealer bust by the way he plays his hand.
- (4) You should always take even money when you have a blackjack and the dealer shows an Ace.
- (5) Splitting a pair of 8s against a dealer 10 and Ace is for suckers.
- (6) A progressive betting system will overcome the house edge.
- (7) You should always hit 16 against a dealer 10.

- (8) The increase in the house edge when the casino only pays 6-5 for a blackjack is offset when only a single deck of cards is used.
- (9) A player who enters a game in the middle of a shoe will alter the flow of the cards and cause the other table players to lose.
- (10) If you see the dealer's hole card by accident and don't say anything, you are cheating.
- (11) You need to be a genius in order to be a card counter.
- (12) It doesn't matter how the casino shuffles the cards.
- (13) You are cheating if you accept a winning bet that actually lost.
- (14) If you lose five hands in a row you are due to win the next hand.
- (15) It doesn't make any difference which seat you take when you play blackjack.

ANSWERS:

- (1) Fact. You should always have a strategy card handy in case you forget how to play a hand.
- (2) Fiction. How well or poorly your fellow players play the game does not affect your chances of winning or losing in the long run. You could have five brilliant minds, or five chimpanzees on the same table with you, and your odds of winning remain the same.
- (3) Fiction. If the actions of the third base player could influence whether a dealer busts, don't you think the casinos would be doing something about it (like putting skills on third base to play in a manner that would improve the dealer's chances of beating the table)?
- (4) Fiction. Over the long haul you will end up with more money in your pocket if you decline even money rather than taking it.
- (5) Fiction. Even though that's what was said in the movie 21, you should always split 8s against a dealer 10 and Ace.

- (6) Fiction. No betting system alone will overcome the house edge in blackjack.
- (7) Fiction. If the casino offers surrender you should surrender. If your 16 is composed of three or more cards or the result of a pair split, you should stand.
- (8) Fiction. Even the use of a single deck doesn't come close to offsetting the approximate 1.4% increase in house edge when the house pays 6-5 for a blackjack, instead of 3-2.
- (9) Fiction. Yes, the cards coming out of the shoe will be different, but you can't predict if it will be better or worse. Long term it makes no difference.
- (10) Fiction. There is nothing illegal about taking advantage of a sloppy dealer. It's the casino's responsibility to ensure that their dealers are following the correct dealing protocols.
- (11) Fiction. Casinos would like you to believe that you need to be a genius to be a card counter but that's not true. Anyone with average intelligence can learn card counting.
- (12) Fiction. If a casino is using a Continuous Shuffling Machine, the game is faster (more hands dealt per hour) and players stand to lose more per hour.
- (13) Fiction. It might be unethical to accept the winning chips, but it's not illegal. Again, the burden of responsibility rests with the casino to ensure that their dealers are paying off bets correctly.
- (14) Fiction. There has never been any mathematical study that proves your chances of winning the next hand in blackjack increases depending upon what happened in previous hands.
- (15) Fact. Your chances of winning are independent of seat position. Any seat is just as good as any other.

$200,000 River Bingo Bash

Players will flock to Laughlin, Nevada, to compete for 200K of bingo payouts at Edgewater Casino Resort this November

Saturday, November 23 and Sunday November 24

Players from far and wide are gearing up to take on the $200,000 River Bingo Bash, a weekend-long bingo extravaganza coming to Edgewater Casino Resort in Laughlin, Nevada, on Saturday, Nov. 23 and Sunday, Nov. 24.

Located at 2020 S. Casino Dr., Edgewater Casino Resort will host 1,000 players at The Edge Pavilion, Laughlin's premier entertainment venue, which will be transformed into a state-of-the-art bingo hall. Each day of the weekend will offer players the chance to win $100,000, starting each morning at 11 a.m. with ten warm-up games paying out $500 to each winner. Once players are warmed up, the day's main event will kick off, seeing players compete for huge payouts.

Following Saturday's main event, the Edgewater Bingo Room will host a fun-filled bingo afterparty featuring food, prize drawings and more for traditional bingo buy-in fees.

Requiring an entry fee of 200 + taxes and fees per person, attendees will receive a 6-on pack and a hot dog and soda combo each day. Players will also receive two daubers and a commemorative River Bingo Bash t-shirt with their entry. Event participants will also be eligible for a special room offer; book a two-night stay at Aquarius or Edgewater Casino Resorts from Friday, Nov. 22 through Saturday, Nov. 23 or from Saturday, Nov. 23 through Sunday, Nov. 24 will receive a third night's stay, free of charge excluding fees and taxes.

Opened in June 2023, the Edgewater Bingo Room has quickly become a hit, each day seeing locals and travelers compete for impressive payouts, including massive Double Progressive jackpots that continually swell. The only bingo room in Laughlin, the $200,000 River Bingo Bash is the first of many large-scale bingo events that Edgewater will host as they continue to foster a rapidly growing bingo community in Laughlin and the surrounding area, making it one of the hottest new bingo destinations around.

Charity and Chairs

Dear Guy,
Here's an idea for your readers. In the spirit of the holidays, wouldn't it be great if everyone gave a percentage of their winnings to some kind of charity? We are in the season of family, friendship, and giving. What better time could there be for sharing one's good fortune than with those in need?
—Louis G., via e-mail

Dear Louis,
I mentioned your letter to my buddy, Cheap Al, who argues that technically, by going to charity Bingo games throughout the year, he's already donating to charity by buying into the games and losing. So, he feels he shouldn't have to fork over even more just because it's the holidays. Still, I give you credit for your generous idea and hope that other readers will follow suit, even if Cheap Al does not. —Guy

Dear Guy,
I like going to Bingo but have started having back problems there because of the chairs. They use folding metal chairs that look pretty old and my back is killing me by the end of Bingo. I can barely stand up straight after sitting there for two hours and sometimes my legs begin to numb from the bad seating. Please print this letter so that someone will see it and hopefully replace the bad metal chairs with some new comfortable ones!
—Oh My Aching Back, Ohio, via e-mail

Dear Aching,
Back problems are a real pain, no question about it, and no pun intended. But if you're counting on this letter appearing in this column and solving your situation, you'd better come up with a plan B! Something like mentioning to management that the chairs are terrible and asking if they might consider replacing them. Or bringing your own folding chair with you to the games. Or buying a seat cushion or some kind of back-support device and bringing it to Bingo. Or getting up out of your chair every 15 minutes or so and stretching your muscles a little between sessions.

There. Now you have a plan B—as well as C, D, and E! —Guy

Hey guys! (And gals!) Write to Guy's Turn c/o The Bingo Bugle, P.O. Box 527, Vashon, WA 98070, or e-mail Guy directly at admin@bingobugle.com.

Tropicana Las Vegas Says Final Farewell with Historic Implosion, Making Way for A's Ballpark and Bally's Entertainment Resort

LAS VEGAS – October 9, 2024— The iconic Tropicana Las Vegas took its final bow with a breathtaking spectacle, illuminating the Las Vegas skyline with an impressive drone and fireworks show, followed by the 22-second-long implosion of the Tropicana at 2:30 a.m. PT on Wednesday, Oct. 9. The momentous event marks the next chapter in Las Vegas' legacy of reinvention: the A's state-of-the-art ballpark and a world-class entertainment resort destination in partnership with Bally's Corporation, a name synonymous with Vegas hospitality and gaming.

"Bally's is honored to have been part of this historic moment, bidding farewell to the iconic Tropicana," said Soo Kim, chairman of Bally's Corporation. "As we celebrate its legacy, we look ahead to building a world-class entertainment resort, the future home of the Athletics, and reinforcing Las Vegas as the ultimate sports and entertainment capital."

"The demolition of the Tropicana is an important milestone in the process of bringing A's baseball to the world-renowned Las Vegas Strip and the community of Southern Nevada," said John Fisher, owner of the A's. "We hope that, in time, this site will become a place of unforgettable experiences for fans of the game. We extend our gratitude to Bally's and GLPI for their partnership as we embark on this project together."

The last remaining casino of its era on the Las Vegas Strip, the implosion of the Tropicana's two 22-story towers, totaling 917,400 square feet, involved a total of 22,000 lineal feet of detonating cord. The structural steel-framed Paradise Tower featured 220 cut-point locations loaded with 490 pounds of explosives, while the reinforced concrete-framed Club Tower had 1,130 boreholes filled with 1,700 pounds of explosives. The implosion was facilitated by Controlled Demolition, Inc. (CDI) and GGG Demolition, both leaders in large-scale implosions.

Ahead of the detonation, a ceremony honored the Tropicana, while looking ahead to the future of the site. Speakers included Bally's Corporation Chairman Soo Kim, Athletics owner, John Fisher, Tropicana Las Vegas General Manager & Vice President of Hospitality Strategy Arik Knowles, Chief Executive Officer and President of the Las Vegas Convention and Visitors Authority (LVCVA) Steve Hill and Clark County Commissioner Jim Gibson.

Following the ceremony and ahead of the detonation, the Tropicana was celebrated with a spectacular 555-drone and fireworks display, created by acclaimed visual creator Fireworks by Grucci.

Ribbon-cutting ceremony for The Tropicana Las Vegas in 1957

The Tropicana Las Vegas, often referred to as "The Trop," had been a cornerstone of the Las Vegas Strip since its opening in 1957. Developed by Miami-based businessman Ben Jaffe, its luxurious South Beach-inspired architecture and tropical theme set a new standard for opulence, quickly earning it the moniker "The Tiffany of the Strip." The Tropicana boasted the largest casino in Las Vegas at the time of its opening, drawing in an elite crowd of high-rollers and celebrities. It remained an iconic fixture on the Strip, representing the evolution of entertainment, luxury and gaming in the city for over six decades. From its Rat Pack-era heyday and the glamorous Folies Bergere to now the future home of the Athletics and a cutting-edge entertainment complex by Bally's Corporation, the Tropicana's history reflects the spirit of reinvention and excitement that defines Las Vegas.

Elevate Your Mornings with Breakfast Burritos: A Meal Prep Marvel

Start the day right with a wholesome breakfast that's easy to prep ahead. Breakfast burritos are your solution for busy mornings, offering convenience without sacrificing nutrition. Batch cook and stock up on these customizable burritos, filled with eggs, sausage, veggies and cheese. From fridge or freezer to microwave, they're ready in minutes, giving everyone a quick, healthy meal you can feel good about.

Of course you can put anything you want in your burritos. I like mine packed with lots of protein and veggies. If you wish to minimize expense you could certainly add cooked rice and beans, or cooked potatoes pieces. You can swap in whole wheat, low carb or high protein tortillas for a nutritional boost. The recipe below costs under $2 per burrito; they're cheaper than fast food and a bazillion times healthier. I'm pretty sure that's scientifically accurate. A bazillion.

Whether you're feeding toddlers, teens or anyone in between, adjust the burrito size based on appetites. For adults, dividing the sausage and egg mixture into eight portions provides generous servings.

Divas ON A DIME
By Patti Diamond

Diva Tips: Ensure the tortillas are at room temperature or slightly warm for easier folding. Avoid overfilling them. Thaw and drain as much liquid as possible from the frozen onions, peppers and spinach before cooking. After cooking the sausage and egg mixture, spread it on a baking sheet to cool, letting steam escape to avoid soggy burritos. No soggy burritos!

GRAB AND GO BREAKFAST BURRITOS
Yield: 8-10 burritos
Total Time: 1 hour

- 1 pound mild pork sausage, or your favorite sausage
- 1 (16 ounce) bag frozen bell pepper and onion blend, thawed
- 1 (10 ounce) box frozen spinach or kale, thawed and drained
- 12 eggs
- 1/2 teaspoon table salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground pepper
- 2 cups (8 ounces) cheddar cheese, shredded
- 1 package flour tortillas, burrito size, 8 or 10 count

Freezer Supplies: parchment or wax paper, foil and 1 gallon zip top freezer bags.

In a large pan over medium-high heat, brown the sausage until nearly cooked through. Add the chopped pepper and onion blend, and continue to cook. Add the thawed and drained spinach to sausage mixture. If you're adding any other chopped vegetables (like mushrooms, cooked potatoes, cooked broccoli) now's the time.

Meanwhile, whisk the eggs with salt and pepper, then add to the sausage mixture and cook. Slightly undercook the eggs, as they'll continue to cook off the heat.

Remove sausage and egg mixture from heat and spread it out on a baking sheet to cool to room temperature. While on the baking sheet, divide the mixture into even portions.

I find it easiest to "assembly line" the burrito-making process. Lay out 8 or 10 pieces of paper; lay a tortilla on each piece. Place sausage and egg mixture on each tortilla and sprinkle with cheese. Wrap each into a burrito then wrap tightly in parchment or wax paper, wrap again with foil, and store in an airtight container or freezer-safe bag. Store burritos in the fridge for up to 1 week or freezer for up to 3 months.

For the best quality, thaw frozen burritos overnight before reheating. When you're ready to heat and eat, simply remove foil from burrito, leaving the paper. Absolutely reuse the foil. Place burrito on a microwave safe plate and microwave for 1 to 2 minutes.

If reheating from frozen, use your microwave's defrost function for 3-5 minutes to thaw the inside, then microwave on high for 1-2 minutes. Cooking times may vary.

Gearing Up for Winter

I think I'm ready for winter. I say that with fingers crossed because, truly, around here you just never know, despite what the annual Almanac says. How about you? Are you ready to get through the coming winter?

One of the biggest and most important items on my to-do list was to find a new (and reliable) snow plow guy. It had to be someone with not only a plow on the front of his truck to take care of the heavy stuff in the driveway, but also a crew that would do the shoveling and ice chipping on the sidewalk and steps.

It's not only for my safety, keeping everything free of ice. The grocery delivery people need a safe walking surface as well. Last year I kept putting notes on the delivery order. Instead of "small bananas, please," my notes were along the lines of "BEWARE!! Ice on the sidewalk!! BEWARE!!"

As far as supplies, I've stocked up on canned goods, dry packaged foods, gallons of water, batteries and paper goods. (If you do this, keep an eye on the expiration dates of the food.) By stocking up, I'll need to go out to get groceries less often or have fewer deliveries.

And I haven't forgotten the cat. He'll be taken care of as well, with several cases and bags of his favorite food. I will, however, need to drive several towns away to the pet specialty prescription store.

And the car, scheduled for oil change and tire rotation ... check. Clear plastic on windows ... check. Batteries in the smoke detectors ... check. Mittens, hat, vest to wear under coat ... check, check, check.

A winter activity to be considered for cold weather: writing a novel. National Novel Writing Month (nanowrimo.org) began in 1999 to challenge people to complete a 50,000-word novel during November. Interested? Check the website for loads of suggestions, tools and help!

Suncoast Unveils New Sports Book

Suncoast's conversion of a showroom into the new sports book is complete. The sports book was officially unveiled just in time for football season. It boasts a nearly 16-foot-tall curved video wall (the curve is de rigueur nowadays) with 1,700 square feet of total high-definition screens. The former sports book is currently being converted into a new bingo room, which will be completed next year; in the meantime, bingo is played on the second floor. Further refinements to Boyd's northwest-valley resort include renovations to the casino, bowling center, and food hall and a 70-seat center bar.

A visitor from Omaha had been playing pai gow poker for 90 minutes at Planet Hollywood recently when he lined up a seven-card straight flush. He told the casino that his first thought on hitting the jackpot was "to call his wife." Now there's a devoted husband.

Four Sixes Ranch Steakhouse

Hollywood writer and director Taylor Sheridan, best known as the creator of the series Yellowstone, has opened a pop-up steakhouse at the Wynn. The name comes from the Four Sixes Ranch, which covers 266,000 acres over three counties in west Texas; it was purchased from the family that founded it and owned it for 120 years by Sheridan and investors in 2020 for upwards of $350 million. The pop-up is in Tableau, the Wynn's breakfast/brunch restaurant, which now serves dinner at the steakhouse 5:30-10 p.m. The online menu on the Wynn's website doesn't list prices, though it does give it SSSS. The beef is mostly the 6666 Angus brand: strip, skirt, and filets of nine to 16 ounces, along with an 18-oz. ribeye, 26-oz. Cowboy, 40-oz. porterhouse, and 48-oz. Tomahawk.

THE BINGO SISTERS

WOW NEAT

by Kate and Reva

Fair Bingo

This past autumn we had our county fair. It all started back when the fairs were used to display the best of people's gardens and see their produce and flowers compared with that grown by other gardeners. Now, of course, fairs have become big business and a far cry from the small endeavors of the past.

It happens that the game of Bingo first appeared at a fair in the South. It was so instantly popular that fairs were not able to contain it. The original game used cardboard cards and beans for covering the numbers. It was called Beano (isn't that the current name of a "digestive" aid?) and the name Bingo occurred accidentally as one excited winner shouted "Bingo" when they couldn't remember what they were supposed to say.

Our largest fair in this area has a tent for Bingo and it's fun to go there to play during the ten days of celebration, although the benches are not as comfortable as regular chairs. We use this as an excuse to see the fair and play Bingo as well, thus having what Kate calls "too much fun." This year we took our good friend Rosemary along as she was having a week without husband or child.

We arrived early for the game, which was fortunate as very soon there was standing room only and a line soon formed for the next session.

Rosemary is not a skilled Bingo player and needs help, which I did not realize until she missed her first chevron. I felt very bad at not helping her win and resolved to watch her cards more carefully. This proved easier said than done as I had purchased an extra pack and had quite enough to watch on my own.

We were at a "good neighbor" table, so we won a prize every time one of our tablemates got a Bingo. This was a stuffed animal day and Kate covered a purple rhinoceros that hung from a line overhead. Rosemary wanted a green giraffe and I just wanted to win.

The next game up was the "green bean blackout," which was a diagonal on any two cards followed by a blackout. "I'll never be able to keep track," moaned Rosemary, so Kate took on one row of her cards to watch and I took the other.

"Aren't they calling faster than usual?" I asked Kate who shook her head and said, "It just seems fast because you're slow today." I thought that comment was rude but was too busy to say anything. Rosemary and I were both on and that kept me checking, sometimes rather frantically.

"I think I've got it," said Rosemary. "Check it for me."

"Call Bingo first and they will check it. If you've made a mistake the worst that can happen is that you will be embarrassed," blurted out Kate, who then shouted "Bingo" for her, just in time as the caller was ready with the next number.

Since we were good neighbors, Kate got her purple rhinoceros and I chose the green giraffe for Rosemary. I think she was more pleased with the stuffed animal than the money she won.

Veterans Post

GOOD to KNOW

Proving a negative?

An elderly Vietnam-era veteran is being hounded by a government agency that is insisting he pay back a loan ... a loan he never took out.

The Small Business Administration (SBA) says he took out the loan in 2021 and if he doesn't pay it back, they will take 15% of his Social Security check until it's paid for.

The veteran has tried to tell them he never applied for nor received any loan, that he hadn't owned a business (and therefore didn't qualify for a business loan), and the SBA wants him to prove it.

How do you prove a negative?

It seems that the SBA would have records of where they sent that loan money, if indeed the loan was issued. But no, they're insisting the veteran prove he didn't get the loan.

Granted, there were billions of dollars handed out to fraudsters and thieves in the SBA loan program during the pandemic. But again, how do you prove a negative?

The average monthly Social Security check this year is around $1,782. Taking away 15% leaves $1,514. Even before deducting that 15%, it's not a lot of money, and the veteran probably doesn't have a lot to spare at the end of the month.

At this point, taking the veteran's Social Security money is on hold -- for now -- after a local investigative reporter got involved and made calls.

But a quick look on the internet shows that this veteran is only one of many this has happened to -- people being nailed for loans they never received. When they complain, all are being told to send in a long list of financial documents, such as tax returns. At first glance it looks like a scam to steal personal information.

If you're the victim of fraud such as this, deal directly with the SBA Office of Inspector General and file a complaint. As an added step, consider submitting a FOIA request for all documents related to the problem, such as the loan application itself.

The Garden Bug

Soil with a pH level above 7 is alkaline, and less than 7 is acidic (7 is "neutral").

Plants that like acidic soil include azaleas, rhododendrons, hydrangea, gardenias, camellias, holly shrubs, crepe myrtles, calla lilies and pine trees.

To increase the acidity of your soil, mix ground rock sulphur into it, using 1.2 oz. per square yard for sandy soils and 3.6 oz. per square yard for all other soils. You can also add sawdust, composted leaves and peat moss to lower the soil pH. - Brenda Weaver
